1:00 – 1:30 pm	Filling a Critical Need: Growing Surgical Technologists Using an Apprenticeship Model* Speaker: Angie Gamber, MBA, BNA, RN, FACHE, Vice President, Clinical Operations, Stormont Vail Health The projected number of Surgical Technologists necessary to facilitate healthcare needs is on the rise, (Bureau of Labor Statistics, US, 2022), but the number of graduating certified Surgical Technologists has significantly declined over the last seven years (NBSTSA, 2021). This creates a critical staffing shortage for operating rooms all over the country. At Stormont Vail, we chose to get creative and change the way we recruit, train, and retain Surgical Technologists. In this presentation, we will explain the process we followed to assess the needs, develop a comprehensive Surgical Technology program, and start our pilot cohort to meet this need. Our goal is to increase the number of qualified Surgical Technologists in our operating rooms so that we can continue serving patients with the highest quality surgical care.

2. Explain what is happening in Washington DC related to healthcare policy.
3. Identify how other groups are addressing the challenge of access.
4. Describe how other groups are using data to plan out their workforce.
5. Share how other groups are using artificial intelligence.
6. Learn how other medical group leaders are incentivizing physicians.

Continuing Education:

Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Registered Nurses, and Physician Assistants (CME Credit): AMGA is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. AMGA designates this live educational activity for up to 6 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. For the purpose of recertification, the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) and the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA) accept AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ issued by organizations accredited by the ACCME. With respect to individual states' requirements for continuing education, State Boards have final authority of the acceptance. Full Disclosure Policy for CME Activities: As an accredited provider of Continuing Medical Education (CME) activities, it is the policy of AMGA to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its educational activities. All planners, faculty, and other individuals in control of content, participating in any learning activity sponsored by AMGA, are required to disclose all financial relationships with ineligible companies – whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients – over the previous 24 months. None of the planners for this educational activity have anything to disclose.

CPAs (CPE Credit): AMGA is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors. AMGA designates this live educational activity for up to 7 CPE credits in the field of “specialized knowledge”. In accordance with the standards of the National Registry of CPE Sponsors, CPE credits are granted based on a 50-minute hour. No prerequisite requirements are necessary for this event. Please note: State boards of accountancy have final authority on the acceptance of individual courses for CPE credit. (NASBA Sponsor ID: 112939)

American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE Qualified Education Credit): By attending this AMGA program, participants may earn up to 6 American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) Qualified Education hours toward initial certification or recertification of the Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE) designation. Participants of this program who wish to have their attendance considered for ACHE Qualified Education hours should list it when they apply to the ACHE for advancement or recertification. Please note: Participants are responsible for maintaining a record of their ACHE Qualified Education hours.
